BAND STORY

I've been playing and producing all kinds of music for a minute. I was introduced to musicianship through performing professionally as a bassist. During that stint I picked up other facets of music such as songwriting, music programing, guitar, drums and keyboards. After high school, I gained most of my direction from The Music Business Institute. I am currently working as a freelance Multimedia Specialist in Atlanta. Since music has always been the art form of choice for me, I am seeking to producing music full time. Recently, I added writing music for Film and TV to my agenda. The plan is to build a brand of excellence. My sound tends to lean towards making music suitable for dynamic live performance. Whatever the style may be. My approach to producing music always starts with energy and uniqueness. I like to go outside the box (within reason). I pride myself on being able to produce any kind of music. This is something I work very hard at.
